What is Ramadhan?

Ramadhan is the ninth month of the Islamic lunar calendar. Every day during this month, Muslims around the world spend the daylight hours from sunrise to sunset in a complete fast.

The Arabic word for "fasting" (sawm) literally means "to refrain" - and it means not only refraining from food and drink, but from evil actions, thoughts, and words.

In Ramadhan, Muslims are called upon to re-evaluate their lives in light of Islamic guidance. We are to make peace with those who have wronged us, strengthen ties with family and friends, do away with bad habits - essentially to clean up our lives, our thoughts, and our feelings. During Ramadhan, every part of the body must be restrained. For example, the tongue must be restrained from backbiting and gossip, and the eyes must restrain themselves from looking at unlawful things. In such a way, every part of the body observes the fast.

Why we fast?

Fasting is exclusively for Allah: He states, "Fasting is for me and I shall give its reward" (al-Bukhari)

Who should fast?

Fasting during the month of Ramadhan is obligatory for every mature (over the age of puberty), sane, and healthy Muslim.

Those not obliged to fast are the insane, mentally retarded, or chronically ill, and those under the age of puberty.

People undertaking a strenuous journey; women who are menstruating, experiencing post-natal discharges, or pregnant; people with a temporary illness may suspend their fasting. These people make restitution (qada') by fasting for the number of days equal to those missed, any time before the next Ramadhan.

Dua (Prayer) for Fasting

Dua for keeping a fast at the time of Sehar (Sunrise)

Wa bisawmi ghadinn nawaytu min shahri Ramadhan

Dua for breaking a fast at the time of Iftaar (Sunset)

Allahumma inni laka sumtu wa bika aamantu [wa 'alayka tawakkaltu] wa 'ala rizq-ika aftarthu

Benefits of Ramadhan

Ramadhan is a period of fasting, reflection, devotion, generosity and sacrifice; it has intense spiritual meaning.

- Through fasting, a Muslim experiences hunger and thirst, and empathises with those in the world who have little to eat.
- Through increased devotion, Muslims feel closer to their Creator, and recognise that everything we have in this life is a blessing from Him.
- Through increased charity, Muslims develop feelings of generosity and good-will toward others. The Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) once said, "A man's wealth is never diminished by charity".
- Through self-control, a Muslim practices good manners, good speech, and good habits.
- Through changing routines, Muslims have a chance to establish more healthy lifestyle habits, particularly with regards to diet and smoking.
- Through family and community gatherings, Muslims strengthen the bonds of brotherhood and sisterhood, in their own communities and throughout the world.

Fasting and your health

Healthy eating is more important than ever when you fast during Ramadhan. Your body can only fill up on vital nutrients and fluid in the evening, so your food choices should be balanced and varied.

The natural human response to fasting is to over-eat when food becomes available, but choosing the wrong foods during the evening will lead to illness and sluggishness during the day.

5 Great Goals to Set this Ramadhan

1. Eat, drink, and be moderate

Most of us do it - once we break our fast, we plough food and drink into our mouths until it's hard to move. But this contradicts the spirit of Ramadhan: it is about self-control, not self-indulgence.

2. Give to charity...

The Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) was always generous, but even more so in Ramadhan. Let's open our hearts and dig a little deeper - whatever you can give, it is the intention that counts.

3. Go to Taraweeh prayers

After breaking fast, the urge is to rest. But try your best go to the mosque for Taraweeh prayers. Praying alone is wonderful, but doing it in congregation is fantastic. Don't miss it this year.

4. Read at least 5 minutes of Quran a day

Even if you are really busy, try to find a few minutes and a quiet place to read some Quran. The point is simply to connect with God through his revelation.

5. Forgive everyone who has hurt you

Still got a festering wound from a time when someone hurt you? Let go of the anger and pain this Ramadhan - forgiving someone is good for the body and soul, especially in Ramadhan, of which ten days are devoted to Allah's forgiveness.

After Ramadhan

Now that we come to the end of Ramadhan the big question is what happens next? Did we go through all the spiritual exercises in Ramadhan, only to fall back into our old negative ways of behaving once it is over? Our lifestyles after Ramadhan will show whether we used the month to bring about a real change within, or whether we wasted the opportunity for spiritual growth and reformation.

What is Eid?

Muslims around the world celebrate two Eids a year: Eid Al-Fitr and Eid Al-Adha. Eid Al-Fitr marks the end of the month of Ramadhan, and is literally a festival for breaking the fast. After the intense religious introspection and fasting of Ramadhan, Muslims take Eid as an opportunity to have fun, celebrate their faith, and enjoy the company of friends and family.

May Allah Ta'ala on the occasion of Eid give us the guidance to resolve that we shall make the Quran and Sunnah our guiding lights and practice Islam as much as possible.

Reshaping Drug Treatment Services in Leicester

Drug treatment services play an important role in tackling a range of health, social and legal problems associated with substance misuse. These services need to keep up with the diverse and constantly changing needs of the local population.

The Leicester City Council and NHS Leicester are keen to consult with local people on the way services are delivered in the future. Officers are keen to reach out to as many different local communities and meet them face to face to discuss issues, time and resources permitting. People will also get the opportunity to complete an online questionnaire to put across their views. This consultation process will launch soon and if you are interested in participating please contact:-

"It is our responsibility as members of the Muslim Ummah to fight oppression and injustice."

(peaceful families.org)

You CAN do something about it

Domestic violence can include:

- Forced marriage, bullying
- Isolation from family and friends
- Forced sexual acts
- Burning, biting, punching
- Threats, stalking

It damages individuals and communities

It is against the teachings of Islam

Prophet Mohammed (P.B.U.H.) said:

"The best of you is he who is best to his family"

JUSTICE SEEN JUSTICE DONE

'Justice Seen, Justice Done' is a government campaign to put the law abiding public first in policing and justice, and ensure that offenders face tough consequences and pay something back to their communities.

There are five priorities under the 'Justice Seen, Justice Done' Campaign:

- One Dialogue with the Public
- Promoting the Policing Pledge
- Highly visible Community Payback
- Community Crime Fighters
- Support for Victims and Witnesses

WE ARE COMING TO YOUR COMMUNITY...
