In the name of Allah, the Most Beneficent, the Most Merciful

Assalaamu-alaikum

The blessed month is here once again, and not a moment too soon!

As we all know, Ramadhan goes by far too quickly. Our aim with Ramadhan 2013 is to help you make the most of your Ramadhan, so we've packed this year's guide with more information and prayer timetables than ever before. We're also launching the handy new iFast mobile phone app, which will help you to fast, pray, and give at the touch of a button.

Ramadhan is not only a time for intense devotion and reflection; it is also a celebration – of what it is to be Muslim, of the joy and blessings in our lives, and of our ability to overcome challenges as individuals and a community. We at RP also think it's a time to celebrate our future, so we have a special dedication to the next generation of Muslims.

This year we would like to take the opportunity to say an extra special thank-you to our sponsors and advertisers – their support has kept us going strong for five years! Their generosity has kept this book free for our readers since 2009, so if you use any of the services mentioned in the book please let them know that you saw them here.

And speaking of our dear readers, as a special thanks to you we are giving away a raft of prizes, including two flight tickets to Umrah courtesy of Home and Away Holidays – so make sure you enter this year's competition!

We would love to receive your feedback about the Ramadhan books, so please remember to visit us at www.ramadhanpublications.co.uk and like our Facebook page to stay up to date and get in touch!

With our prayers for a blessed Ramadhan and happy Eid.

A message from

Peter Soulsby

Leicester City Mayor

Today, as we enter the holy month of Ramadhan, I would like to send warm greetings to all the Muslims in Leicester.

At this time of prayer and contemplation, Muslims come together to break the fast and to remember those who are in need. It is a time for charity and compassion, and for cherishing family and friends.

These are values that unite Muslims with other faiths and people in Leicester. I'm very proud of our diverse city, where communities live, work and face challenges together.

We recognise the importance and contribution of different cultures and faiths, and we are stronger for it. We can celebrate the cohesion between communities, understanding that this is something we all continue to develop and support.

As you prepare for this sacred month, may I take this opportunity to wish you a peaceful and blessed Ramadhan.

LEARN

Ramadhan is the month in which the Quran, the holy book of Islam, was revealed to the Prophet Muhammad, peace be upon him (pbuh). It is the most sacred and blessed month of the Islamic calendar.

Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) said: "O People! Surely, the month of God has approached you. The month which, in the eyes of The Almighty, is the most virtuous of the months. Its days are the best of the days and its nights, the best of the nights and its moments, the best of the moments."

Fasting in Ramadhan

Fasting in Ramadhan is one of the five pillars of Islamic worship. It is obligatory for healthy adult Muslims to spend each day in Ramadhan in a complete fast during daylight hours.

Why do we fast?

The Quran says that fasting was prescribed for Muslims "...as it was prescribed to those before you, that you may learn self-restraint"

(Quran 2:183). Through fasting we are able to strengthen ourselves physically and spiritually and as a result draw closer to our Lord.

Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) said: "Whoever fasts during Ramadan out of sincere faith and hoping to attain The Almighty's rewards, then all his past sins will be forgiven."

Who keeps the fast?

Fasting during the month of Ramadhan is obligatory for every healthy Muslim over the age of puberty. Those who suffer from a severe mental or physical illness and children under the age of puberty are not obligated to fast. Some groups are permitted to postpone fasting: these are people on a journey; women who are pregnant, breastfeeding, or menstruating; and people who cannot fast due to temporary illness.

People that cannot fast at all – for example, due to an ongoing medical condition - are able to feed a poor person as an alternative.

FAST

Fasting in Islam is the act of abstaining from eating, drinking and intimate relations from the break of dawn until the setting of the sun. 'Sawm', the Arabic word for fasting, literally means 'to refrain'.

The Holy Quran states: "...And eat and drink until the white thread of dawn becomes distinct to you from the black thread [of night]. Then complete the fast until the sunset..." (Quran 2:187).

Starting with Suhur

It was a practice (Sunnah) of the Prophet (pbuh) to eat before the fast began at dawn; this is known as 'suhur'. If you find it difficult to eat, it is recommended practice to at least wake and have some water.

You must state your intention to fast. The prayer for beginning the fast is: "Wa bisawmi ghadinn nawaiytu min shahri Ramadhan" ("I intend to keep fast today for the month of Ramadhan").

Ending with Iftar

The fast ends at the moment the sun begins to set; this is also the time for Maghreb prayer and is known as 'Iftar'.

You should break the fast immediately at the time of Iftar, or as soon as possible afterwards – delaying it is not permitted.

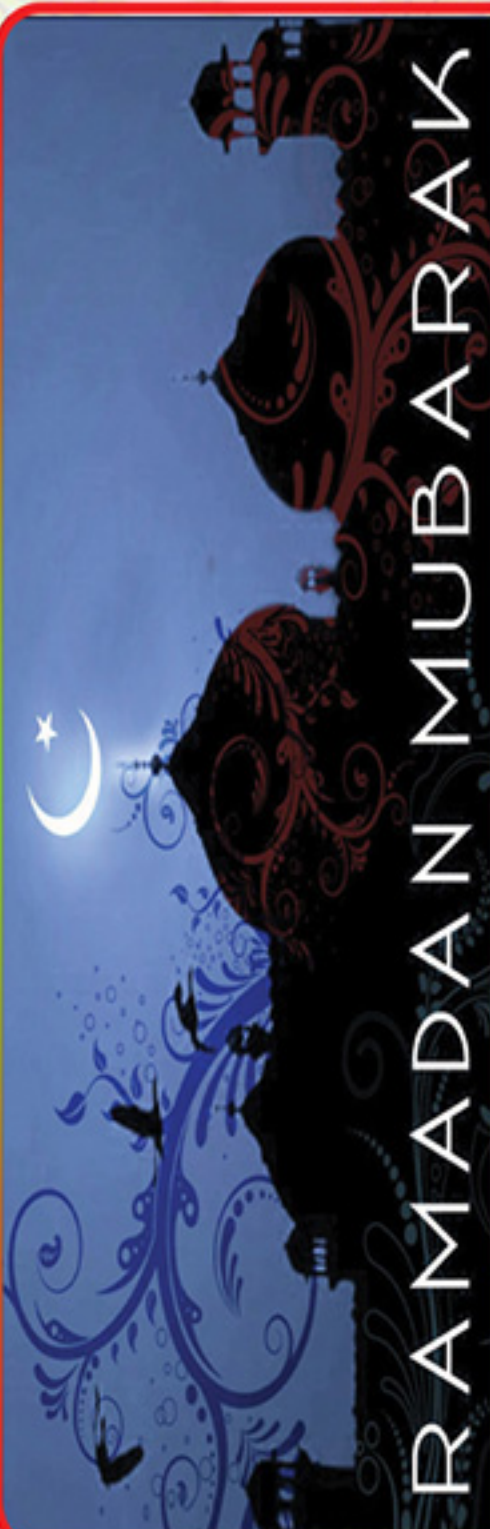

The prayer to say when breaking your fast is "Allahuma inni laka sumtu wa bika aamantu wa 'alayka tawakkaltu wa 'ala rizq-ika aftarthu" ("Oh Lord! I fasted for You and I believe in You [and I put my trust in You] and I break my fast with your sustenance").

Invalidating the fast

If you eat, drink, or engage in intimate relations during your fast, this will invalidate (break) the fast and you will have to make restitution.

However, if you do any of this accidentally (i.e. you forget that you are fasting) and stop once you realise your mistake your fast will remain intact. Good conduct is also important when fasting – Prophet

Muhammad (pbuh) said "Five things spoil a person's fast: lying, slander, backbiting, ungodly oaths, and looking with passion".

PRAY

Ramadhan provides abundant opportunities for prayer, and with it comes an abundance of reward and forgiveness.

Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) said: “Whosoever fasts during the month of Ramadhan with faith and hope of reward, all his past sins will be forgiven; and whosoever stands up in prayer in Ramadhan with faith and hope of reward, all his past sins will be forgiven; and whosoever stands up in worship during the Night of Power (Laylat-ul-Qadr) with faith and a hope of reward, all his sins will be forgiven.”

Salaah

In addition to the five daily Fardh (compulsory) prayers, there is a greater emphasis on performing Sunnah prayers such as Tahajjud (the pre-dawn prayer) in this month. Ramadhan also includes the ‘Taraawi’, the special nightly prayer in which the Quran is recited from start to finish over the course of the month.

Du’aa

Personal supplication – pouring your heart out to The Almighty, imploring His forgiveness, and asking Him for blessings – is highly encouraged in Ramadhan. As it says in the Quran: “And when My servants ask you concerning Me - indeed I am near. I respond to the invocation of the supplicant when he calls upon Me...” (Quran 2:186).

Laylat-ul-Qadr

This is the Night of Power, which takes place in the last ten days of Ramadhan. The Quran says that: “The Night of Power is better than a thousand months. Therein come down the angels and the Spirit by God’s permission, on every errand; Peace! Until the break of dawn.”

I’tikaaf

I’tikaaf is a form of seclusion that people undertake in order to focus solely on worship. It was the practice of the Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) to spend the last days of Ramadhan within the environs of the masjid. It is most common to spend the last ten days of Ramadhan in I’tikaaf, although you can do less or more according to your ability.

GIVE

Charity is an essential part of Islam, and due to the increased rewards on offer in Ramadhan, many Muslims also increase their giving.

The Holy Quran states that: "Righteousness is this: that one believes in God and the last day and the angels and the Book and the prophets, and gives away wealth out of love for Him to the near of kin and the orphans and the needy and the wayfarer and the beggars and for the emancipation of the captives, and keeps up prayer and pays the Zakat"

Zakat

The compulsory act of charity, Zakat, is one of the five pillars of Islam. Zakat is where on an annual basis adult Muslims donate a percentage of their wealth to help those in need. Zakat is calculated on the basis of 2.5% of an individual's assets over a certain amount. The beneficiaries are set out in the above verse of the Quran.

Sadaqaah and Lillah

These are optional but highly recommended forms of charity. Many Muslims give sadaqaah and lillah voluntarily once their Zakat obligations are met. Donations can be given at any time in any amount, and can be spent on a wider range of causes and projects than Zakat (e.g. sustainable development in communities, building masjids, etc.)

Rewards

Charity cleanses ones wealth and helps to protect one from harm and sin. The Quran says that: "Those who spend (in the cause of The Almighty) privately or publicly, by night and day, have their reward with their Lord. And (on the Day of Resurrection) they shall neither fear nor grieve." (Quran 2:274).

Charitable Actions

Charity in Islam comes in many different forms, and is as much about action as it is about money. The Messenger (pbuh) said: "Every good deed is charity, and it is a good deed that thou meet thy brother with a cheerful countenance and that thou pour water from thy bucket into the vessel of thy brother."

GAIN

Whatever the time of year, The Almighty is most generous – but in Ramadhan His generosity is multiplied many times over.

Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) said: “Surely, the month of Ramadhan is a great month. The Almighty multiplies in it the good deeds, erases in it the sins and elevates in it the ranks”.

Benefits of Ramadhan

There is much to gain from fasting in Ramadhan. The benefits include:

- Developing empathy for those who go without food and water
- Recognising and giving thanks for the blessings in our lives
- Becoming more charitable both with our money and in our manner
- Replacing bad habits and routines with more positive ones
- Strengthening the bonds of family and community.

Reaping the rewards

Ramadhan gives Muslims an incredible opportunity to gain sawaab (reward), as it is multiplied for every good deed – the more you do, the more you get in return.

It is reported that the Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) was asked: “O Prophet of The Almighty! Which of the two months possesses a greater reward, Rajab or the month of Ramadhan?” Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) replied: “Nothing can be compared to the month of Ramadhan in terms of reward”.

The gift that keeps giving

The benefits of the holy month do not stop there! There is even more to gain from Ramadhan, as The Almighty’s mercy, forgiveness, compassion, and blessings are also multiplied.

The Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) was heard to say: “Every night, in the month of Ramadhan, The Almighty, The Blessed and The Exalted, calls out three times: ‘Is there one who seeks from Me so that I grant him his wish? Is there one who turns to me in repentance so that I turn to him (in Mercy)? Is there one who seeks forgiveness from Me so that I forgive him?’”

'Eid' means festival or celebration.

Eid-ul-Fitr is a reward from The Almighty for fasting and increased worship of Ramadhan. It is reported that Prophet Muhammad said: "When the eve of Eid-ul-Fitr comes, all the angels rejoice. The Almighty says: 'Oh My Angels! What is the reward of those labourers who have completed their task?' The angels reply that they should be fully rewarded. The Almighty then says: 'Be witness, I have forgiven them all'."

Celebrating Eid

After the intense fasting and devotion of Ramadhan, Eid is an opportunity to relax and have fun, celebrate our faith, and enjoy the company of friends and family.

Eid is celebrated differently by the many different Muslim communities across the world, but there are some Eid practices that Muslims of all backgrounds have in common.

Eid Prayers

All Muslims who are able to will start the day with the Eid Salah, a special two-part prayer and sermon held in the morning. People will practice the Sunnah of the Prophet (pbuh) as they prepare for Salah:

- Wake up early in the morning and take a bath (ghusl),
- Put on one's best available clothes and wear perfume (ittr),
- Eat a sweet food, preferably dates, before the Eid prayer, and
- Recite takbir (proclaiming God's Greatness) in a low voice on the way to Eid prayer.

Other Eid Day Customs

People visit one another's homes, share food, and indulge each other - especially the children - with gifts and money. The charitable acts that abound in Ramadhan continue on Eid day with the sadaqaat-ul-fitr, a payment made to charity especially on Eid by all who can afford it.

Eid is also a reflective time, and many people will take this time to visit the graves of loved one who have passed away.

SHU'INE

We at Ramadhan Publications think that Muslim children and young people are pretty special, so this year we are paying tribute!

Anas ibn Malik (may God be pleased with him), the servant of the Prophet (pbuh), said: "I never saw anyone who was more compassionate towards children than the Messenger (pbuh)".

As Ramadhan gets tougher...

Although Ramadhan is inching ever closer to the height of summer and the fasts are getting longer, our will to fast keeps on growing stronger. Many of us start the month saying "I don't know if I can do it this year", But, as the past few years have shown, we end the month saying "that wasn't so bad after all!"

For those of us in the older generations, we have been fortunate to have many years of shorter fasts, each year helping us to prepare for the challenges of the next.

Young people work harder...

The younger generation however – those coming of age just as the fasts are at their longest – have not had this time to prepare.

Yet despite having to keep some of the longest fasts on the planet, our young people throw themselves into Ramadhan with great enthusiasm and take up fasting without hesitation.

And they don't just do the bare minimum. They fill the masjids at Taraawi, run around delivering food to neighbours, and give up their weekends to go door-to-door raising money for charity.

And outshine the rest of us!

The younger generation's approach to Ramadhan shows the strength and goodness that lies in the heart of every child and young person (even those that sometimes struggle to get things right!).

It reminds us why Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) thought of children and young people as being so special, and was so compassionate towards them. Their love of Ramadhan is a shining example for us all and shows that the Muslim community has a bright future.

BE AMAZED BE AMUSED

Islam spread all over the world, from the East to the West; from the North to the South. It incorporates a wide variety of cultures, assortments of interpretations and a tremendous sea of adversity. The Islamic Establishment brings this abundant diverse culture from the Islamic world, all under one roof. Explore the mystical Islamic world of Islam and smell the aromas and fragrances from all the different countries. See the children's toys emerged from the Arab world. Feel yourself lost in the Middle Eastern atmosphere by dressing yourself in the wide range of attire, as does the Islamic world. Experience the colourful ambience, let your eyes wonder upon rich artefacts in glorious settings, and be engulfed into the rich world of the East. Tickle your taste buds with dates from Palestine and delicacies from Saudi Arabia. Enjoy the sound of beats with the Moroccan daff, or decorate your wall with the art of the Egyptian papyrus paper. Make your kitchen outlook a Turkish one, with the magnificent Turkish tea sets. Dress yourself in an exotic Syrian shirt. Explore Dubai at your hands; cultures you've never delved into before. Engross yourself with a read from our vast library of books and adventure the diverse Islamic history, the celebrated characters from the books and all the different languages. Taste the benefits of the natural, nutritive and herbal foods, such as the olive oil and black-seed products. So instead of a tiresome journey to all these countries individually, visit us at The Islamic Establishment, and prepare yourself to be amazed.

Ramadhan Bites

Tentalising Chicken Dishes

Talk of the town chicken

Ingredients

- 1 Chicken
- 1 Tblsp Red Ginger Garlic Masala
- 1 ½ Tsp Red Chilli Powder
- 1 Tsp Dhania Powder
- 2 Tblsp Lemon Juice
- Half Tin Tomatoe Puree
- 2 Tsp Salt
- ¼ Tsp Turmeric
- 1 Tsp Jeero Powder

Method

Marinate the above for an hour and cook chicken in ghee. Once chicken is cooked lay in oven tray and make the following sauce:

- 3 Tblsp Olive Oil
- A Little Knob Of Butter
- 1 Tblsp Crushed Garlic
- 1 Tblsp Red Chillie Powder
- 1 Tblsp Crushed Red Chilli Powder
- 1 Tblsp Lemon Juice

Cook sauce for about 5 minutes then pour over chicken. Grill chicken for 10 minutes. Serve with chips and salads.

Delightful Desserts

Ras Malai

Ingredients

- 1 lt milk
- Pinch Saffron
- 1 cup sugar

Bring to boil, then lower the heat and keep on boiling.

Dough

- 1 cup milk powder
- 1 tsp ghee
- 1 egg beaten well

Method

Mix above ingredients together and form in to dough, break small pieces to form balls. Drop dough balls into the mixture and boil until all ball floats on top or until done. Cut up some badam and pista on top to decorate. Cool and refrigerate, chilled well before serving.
