The blessed month is here once again, and not a moment too soon!

What does Ramadhan mean to you? Ramadhan is about fasting, yes; but it is also about so much more.

It is a time to look within, when we reconnect with our Creator and His guidance in the Quran. It is where we aspire to better ourselves and to follow the example of the Prophet Muhammed (peace be upon him) as closely as we can. Ramadhan also means family and community. It is time to reach out and come closer together; a time to help those near and far through charity; a time to celebrate all that is beautiful about our religion and our ummah.

Whatever Ramadhan brings for you, our aim at Ramadhan Publications is to help you make the most of this incredible and infinitely beneficial month. With prayer timetables, guidance, information on services and businesses. As a special thanks to you we are giving away a carousel of prizes, including two flight tickets to Istanbul courtesy of Home and Away Holidays – so make sure you enter this year's competitions! Let Ramadhan 2016 help you to have your best Ramadhan.

Visit us on Facebook and say salaams and share your feedback – we would love to hear from you! And if you're a smart-phone user don't forget to download iFast, the mobile phone app (available on apple and android) which will help you to fast, pray, and give at the touch of a button.

As always we thank our sponsors for their support in helping to make this book free for our readers; please let them know you saw them here.

With prayers for a blessed Ramadhan and Eid.

At 9 years old, malnourished and in a strange place far from his homeland of Syria, Khaled and his family had no food and no safe place to go.

Thanks to the support of Muslim Aid benefactors, Khaled now has a home, attends school, has regular meals and access to healthcare, things so many of us take for granted.

Act now. Give a child back their future.

Peter Soulsby

Leicester City Mayor

It has been a magnificent year for our city, I am sure many of you would have enjoyed the celebrations and international attention Leicester received owing to the magnificent achievement of Leicester City Football Club in winning the Premier League. It was a great moment for our city where our diverse communities came together in a collective moment of civic pride.

Today, as we enter the holy month of Ramadan, I would like to send warm greetings to all the Muslims in Leicester.

At this time of prayer and contemplation, Muslims come together to break the fast and to remember those who are in need. It is a time for charity and compassion, and for cherishing family and friends.

I am proud that in Leicester we value our cultural diversity and work hard to maintain cohesion between communities. This is not something we take for granted. Everyone has a part to play in creating a strong and prosperous city.

We recognise the importance and contribution of different cultures and faiths, and we are stronger for it. We can celebrate the cohesion between communities, understanding that this is something we all continue to develop and support.

As you prepare for this sacred month, may I take this opportunity to wish you a peaceful and blessed Ramadan.

Sir Peter Soulsby
City mayor

Ramadhan Reminder

What is Ramadhan and why do we fast?

The Muslim holy month marked by daily fasting (no food and no water) from dawn to sunset, increased religious observance and self-reflection.

What's the history of Ramadhan?

Ramadan is celebrated as the month during which the Prophet Muhammad received the initial revelations that make up the Quran, the Muslim holy book.

Why is Ramadhan at a different time each year?

Ramadhan is the ninth month of the Islamic calendar, and begins with the sighting of the new moon. Because the moon can be spotted at different times in various parts of the world and sometimes because of methodology Ramadhan's start can vary slightly from country to country.

Ramadhan usually moves up by about 10 days each year — and passes through all seasons.

Fasting in Ramadhan

Fasting and focusing on prayer and charity during Ramadhan is meant to purify the body and spirit and bring the faithful closer to the Almighty; fasting during the month is also one of the five pillars of Islam.

It is obligatory for healthy adult Muslims to spend each day in Ramadhan in a complete fast during daylight hours.

Why do we fast?

Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) said: "Whoever fasts during Ramadhan out of sincere faith and hoping to attain The Almighty's rewards, then all his past sins will be forgiven."

Who keeps the fast?

Fasting during the month of Ramadhan is obligatory for every healthy Muslim over the age of puberty. Those who suffer from a severe mental or physical illness and children under the age of puberty are not obligated to fast.

Some groups are permitted to postpone fasting: these are people on a journey; women who are pregnant, breastfeeding, or menstruating; and people who cannot fast due to temporary illness.

Eat Smart this Ramadhan

Many of us have developed a culture of indulgent eating... lavish five course lunches and suppers, daily indulgent snacks and more!

The Holy Quraan states:

".....and eat and drink but do not waste by extravagance, certainly HE (The Almighty) does not like those who waste by extravagance." (Quraan 7:31)

Fasting gives our digestive system a much needed rest , where the energy usually used in food digestion and metabolism is directed towards the bodies detoxification , repair and healing. Fasting is one of the oldest forms of natural healing. The West are in fact now highly recommending fasting as an ideal detox and a brilliant way to supercharge the immune system

This Ramadhan, let us stop the feasting and indulging and allow our bodies to obtain maximum spiritual and health benefits. IA

Good ideas for SUHOOR (pre-dawn meal) would include:

- Dates stuffed with almonds
- Raisins consumed whole or in a Sunnah drink known as "nabeedh"
- Sliced Seasonal fruit or Fruit smoothies incorporating nuts & seeds
- Eggs & beans or lentils
- Wholegrain cereals – barley & oats

Good ideas for IFTAR (when ending the fast) would include:

- Fresh or dry dates
- Date, avocado or strawberry shakes (Remember to avoid adding refined sugars)
- Attractive fruit platters or individual skewers served with a drizzling of honey & a sprinkle of cinnamon
- Vegetable sticks & olives served with yoghurt or hummus
