Assalaamu-alaykum and Ramadhan Mubarak!

Dear brothers and sisters,

We write this year's introduction with hearts that are heavy over the situation of our sisters and brothers – our mothers, fathers, and children – in Palestine. So, we begin with prayers to The Merciful to relieve them of their suffering and bring them peace and justice. The situation is not hopeless, even if it appears that way, because there is no power greater than His. And, like we have heard the people of Gaza say over and over again, He is sufficient for everyone's needs and the best disposer of affairs. Let their faith and resilience be a lesson to all of us to keep praying and taking whatever action we can to support them.

Against this backdrop, Ramadhan is not going to be the same this year, but we hope in some small way this book can still help you make the most of this blessed time. As usual, the guide contains Ramadhan refreshers, prayer timetables, and information on shops and services that are ready to help you with all your needs, this month and beyond. We are grateful to our partners, sponsors, and advertisers for making these guides possible. Please let them know you saw them here.

You can also get your supplies at the Leicester Eid Shopping Festival, which we are proud to be supporting this year. The event will be held at Platinum Suite on 30 and 31 March. We look forward to seeing you there. And we also look forward to seeing you on our social media channels, where you will find giveaways and be able to enter our competition to win 2 flight tickets to Qatar courtesy of Home and Away Holidays. Please do drop by and say salaam.

With du'aa for a blessed Ramadhan and Eid.

Ramadhan Refresher:

Learn

Ramadhan is the month in which the Quran, the holy book of Islam, was revealed to the Prophet Muhammad, peace be upon him (pbuh). It is the most sacred and blessed month of the Islamic calendar.

Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) said: "O People! Surely, the month of God has approached you. The month which, in the eyes of The Almighty, is the most virtuous of the months. Its days are the best of the days and its nights, the best of the nights and its moments, the best of the moments."

Fasting in Ramadhan

Fasting in Ramadhan is one of the five pillars of Islamic worship. It is obligatory for healthy adult Muslims to spend each day in Ramadhan in a complete fast during daylight hours.

Why do we fast?

The Quran says that fasting was prescribed for Muslims "...as it was prescribed to those before you, that you may learn self-restraint" (Quran 2:183). Through fasting we are able to strengthen ourselves physically and spiritually and as a result draw closer to our Lord. Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) said: "Whoever fasts during Ramadan out of sincere faith and hoping to attain The Almighty's rewards, then all his past sins will be forgiven."

Who keeps the fast?

Fasting during the month of Ramadhan is obligatory for every healthy Muslim over the age of puberty. Those who suffer from a severe mental or physical illness and children under the age of puberty are not obligated to fast.

Some groups are permitted to postpone fasting: these are people on a journey; women who are pregnant, breastfeeding, or menstruating; and people who cannot fast due to temporary illness.

People that cannot fast at all – for example, due to an ongoing medical condition - are able to feed a poor person as an alternative.

fast

Fasting in Islam is the act of abstaining from eating, drinking and intimate relations from the break of dawn until the setting of the sun. 'Sawm', the Arabic word for fasting, literally means 'to refrain'. The Holy Quran states: "...And eat and drink until the white thread of dawn becomes distinct to you from the black thread [of night]. Then complete the fast until the sunset..." (Quran 2:187).

Starting with Suhur

It was a practice (Sunnah) of the Prophet (pbuh) to eat before the fast began at dawn; this is known as 'suhur'. If you find it difficult to eat, it is recommended practice to at least wake and have some water.

You must state your intention to fast. The prayer for beginning the fast is: "Wa bisawmi ghadinn nawaiytu min shahri Ramadhan" ("I intend to keep fast today for the month of Ramadhan").

Ending with Iftar

The fast ends at the moment the sun begins to set; this is also the time for Maghreb prayer and is known as 'iftar'.

You should break the fast immediately at the time of Iftar, or as soon as possible afterwards – delaying it is not permitted.

The prayer to say when breaking your fast is "Allahuma inni laka sumtu wa bika aamantu wa 'alayka tawakkaltu wa 'ala rizq-ika aftarthu" ("Oh Lord! I fasted for You and I believe in You [and I put my trust in You] and I break my fast with your sustenance").

Invalidating the fast

If you eat, drink, or engage in intimate relations during your fast, this will invalidate (break) the fast and you will have to make restitution. However, if you do any of this accidentally (i.e. you forget that you are fasting) and stop once you realise your mistake your fast will remain intact.

Good conduct is also important when fasting – Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) said "Five things spoil a person's fast: lying, slander, backbiting, ungodly oaths, and looking with passion".

Ramadhan Refresher

Pray

Ramadhan provides abundant opportunities for prayer, and with it comes an abundance of reward and forgiveness. Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) said: "Whosoever fasts during the month of Ramadhan with faith and hope of reward, all his past sins will be forgiven; and whosoever stands up in prayer in Ramadhan with faith and hope of reward, all his past sins will be forgiven; and whosoever stands up in worship during the Night of Power (Laylat-ul-Qadr) with faith and a hope of reward, all his sins will be forgiven."

Salah

In addition to the five daily Fardh (compulsory) prayers, there is a greater emphasis on performing Sunnah prayers such as Tahajjud (the pre-dawn prayer) in this month. Ramadhan also includes the 'Taraawi', the special nightly prayer in which the Quran is recited from start to finish over the course of the month.

Du'aa

Personal supplication – pouring your heart out to The Almighty, imploring His forgiveness, and asking Him for blessings – is highly encouraged in Ramadhan. As it says in the Quran: "And when My servants ask you concerning Me - indeed I am near. I respond to the invocation of the supplicant when he calls upon Me..." (Quran 2:186).

Laylat-ul-Qadr

This is the Night of Power, which takes place in the last ten days of Ramadhan. The Quran says that: "The Night of Power is better than a thousand months. Therein come down the angels and the Spirit by God's permission, on every errand; Peace! Until the break of dawn." (Quran 97:3-5).

I'tikaaf

I'tikaaf is a form of seclusion that people undertake in order to focus solely on worship. It was the practice of the Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) to spend the last days of Ramadhan within the environs of the masjid. It is most common to spend the last ten days of Ramadhan in I'tikaaf, although you can do less or more according to your ability.

Ramadhan Refresher

Give

Charity is an essential part of Islam, and due to the increased rewards on offer in Ramadhan, many Muslims also increase their giving. The Holy Quran states that: "Righteousness is this: that one believes in God and the last day and the angels and the Book and the prophets, and gives away wealth out of love for Him to the near of kin and the orphans and the needy and the wayfarer and the beggars and for the emancipation of the captives, and keeps up prayer and pays the Zakat" (Quran 2:177).

Zakat

The compulsory act of charity, Zakat, is one of the five pillars of Islam. Zakat is where on an annual basis adult Muslims donate a percentage of their wealth to help those in need. Zakat is calculated on the basis of 2.5% of an individual's assets over a certain amount. The beneficiaries are set out in the above verse of the Quran.

Sadaqaah and Lillah

These are optional but highly recommended forms of charity. Many Muslims give sadaqaah and lillah voluntarily once their Zakat obligations are met. Donations can be given at any time in any amount, and can be spent on a wider range of causes and projects than Zakat (e.g. sustainable development in communities, building masjids, etc.).

Rewards

Charity cleanses ones wealth and helps to protect one from harm and sin. The Quran says that: "Those who spend (in the cause of The Almighty) privately or publicly, by night and day, have their reward with their Lord. And (on the Day of Resurrection) they shall neither fear nor grieve." (Quran 2:274).

Charitable Actions

Charity in Islam comes in many different forms, and is as much about action as it is about money. The Messenger (pbuh) said: "Every good deed is charity, and it is a good deed that thou meet thy brother with a cheerful countenance and that thou pour water from thy bucket into the vessel of thy brother."

Ramadhan Refresher

Gain

Whatever the time of year, The Almighty is most generous – but in Ramadhan His generosity is multiplied many times over. Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) said: “Surely, the month of Ramadhan is a great month. The Almighty multiplies in it the good deeds, erases in it the sins and elevates in it the ranks”.

Benefits of Ramadhan

There is much to gain from fasting in Ramadhan. The benefits include:

- Developing empathy for those who go without food and water
- Recognising and giving thanks for the blessings in our lives
- Becoming more charitable both with our money and in our manner
- Replacing bad habits and routines with more positive ones
- Strengthening the bonds of family and community.

Reaping the rewards

Ramadhan gives Muslims an incredible opportunity to gain sawaab (reward), as it is multiplied for every good deed – the more you do, the more you get in return.

It is reported that the Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) was asked: “O Prophet of The Almighty! Which of the two months possesses a greater reward, Rajab or the month of Ramadhan?” Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) replied: “Nothing can be compared to the month of Ramadhan in terms of reward”.

The gift that keeps giving

The benefits of the holy month do not stop there! There is even more to gain from Ramadhan, as The Almighty’s mercy, forgiveness, compassion, and blessings are also multiplied.

The Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) was heard to say: “Every night, in the month of Ramadhan, The Almighty, The Blessed and The Exalted, calls out three times: ‘Is there one who seeks from Me so that I grant him his wish? Is there one who turns to me in repentance so that I turn to him (in Mercy)? Is there one who seeks forgiveness from Me so that I forgive him?’”

Ramadhan Refresher

Enjoy

'Eid' means festival or celebration. Eid-ul-Fitr is a reward from The Almighty for fasting and increased worship of Ramadhan. It is reported that Prophet Muhammad said: "When the eve of Eid-ul-Fitr comes, all the angels rejoice. The Almighty says: 'Oh My Angels! What is the reward of those labourers who have completed their task?' The angels reply that they should be fully rewarded. The Almighty then says: 'Be witness, I have forgiven them all'."

Celebrating Eid

After the intense fasting and devotion of Ramadhan, Eid is an opportunity to relax and have fun, celebrate our faith, and enjoy the company of friends and family.

Eid is celebrated differently by the many different Muslim communities across the world, but there are some Eid practices that Muslims of all backgrounds have in common.

Eid Prayers

All Muslims who are able to will start the day with the Eid Salah, a special two-part prayer and sermon held in the morning. People will practice the Sunnah of the Prophet (pbuh) as they prepare for Salah:

- Wake up early in the morning and take a bath (ghusl),
- Put on one's best available clothes and wear perfume (ittr),
- Eat a sweet food, preferably dates, before the Eid prayer, and
- Recite takbir (proclaiming God's Greatness) in a low voice on the way to Eid prayer.

Other Eid Day Customs

People visit one another's homes, share food, and indulge each other - especially the children - with gifts and money.

The charitable acts that abound in Ramadhan continue on Eid day with the sadaqaat-ul-fitr, a payment made to charity especially on Eid by all who can afford it.

Eid is also a reflective time, and many people will take this time to visit the graves of loved one who have passed away.

About Next Care

At Next Care we focus on providing high-quality service and customer satisfaction, we will do everything we can to meet your care needs.

Next Care is a family run organisation who is familiar with what loved ones go through. We established our care services in 2014 due to a personal experience of losing a loved one through cancer.

We strive to provide you the highest quality of care and support at all times and focus on supporting you to be independent. We provide a 24 hour service from personal care to night sit in calls. We promote the welfare and well-being of our service users and provide a service which enables service users to remain in their own homes for as long as they wish. We offer practical support to implement service users to be independent with cost being a huge aspect to staying at home, we adjust the cost where we are able to, to accommodate your care needs providing you with a reasonable quote.

Our service is sensitive and responsive to race, religion and the cultural background of our service users and aims to meet service user's individual needs. We aim to provide care in the comfort of your own home, supporting your needs.

Next Care always seeks to ensure you get the best possible care at all times. All staff are DBS (Disclosure and Barring Service) and reference checked.

Our Care Staff are all bound by a Code of Conduct which includes preserving the confidentiality of any information that you divulge to us. Next Care has staff from all multi-cultural backgrounds, so language barrier for your loved ones will never be a problem.
